Online symposium – ‘Future of Digital Marketing in Changing Landscape of the VUCA World’

Saturday, July 11, 2020

Today, marketing shifts happen without warning and seemingly overnight. The novel coronavirus caused the initial wave, and now the? Industry is impacted? By the surf. People under stay-at-home orders are spending more time online, leading to Facebook traffic spikes, Google search adjustments, and the rise in popularity of the social media. The COVID-19 era impacted the world, and marketers are scrambling to adjust. Digital Marketing companies also have to change their marketing strategies to cope up with changes in the marketing environment. Even, the? Most successful? Marketing campaign of all the time leveraged new innovative marketing strategies. If organization wants to stay on top of what’s going on in the marketing industry, they have to meet people where they are and people are spending their time on.

Considering all the changes taking place into the environment Dr. D.Y. Patil Vidyapeeth’s Global Business School & Research Centre hosted an online symposium on the topic, “Future of Digital Marketing in Changing Landscape of the VUCA World” on 11th July, 2020. the blessings in disguise due to increased used of digital technologies in the daily life of the people. Customer accepted the digital technology very fast as compare to pre Covid era. Digital Marketing Models are changing very fast now a days.

Discussing about the strategies designed by E-Commerce companies like Amazon, Flip-kart and other organizations Mr. Mahendra said that these companies are the most beneficiaries due to this situation. Commenting on the Cyber Branding of MSME companies he said that these companies are giving more importance to the safety and hygiene aspect of the consumer rather than giving importance to the sales and marketing of their products. These two aspects will become the new USPs of the business.

Mr. Amay Parnagarkar described how the consumer preferences are changed from information to insight. While showing some videos to support his view he said that consumer want to experience the product before purchase. He emphasized on the use of Augmented Reality in the business promotion.

Mentioning the importance of Marketing Automation Mr. Parag Sane stated how to follow up the customer without making him irritated. According to him Search Engine Optimization is the most cost effective channel of the distribution for the product. Commenting on the Applications market he said that there is a huge opportunity in this sector as Govt. of India has banned 59 Chinese apps.

According to Mr. Sachin Sadre Digital Marketing is not the solution but it is the channel to get the business. He stated that differentiation in USPs is the key of success. He was of the opinion that still there is an importance of 4ps in the Digital Marketing as well. Talking about the social media Mr. Sachin said that there are three entities of the social media, Creator, User and the Advertiser of the social media; if anyone of them becomes weak the social media will collapse. As per his views digital marketing is more of art than science.

While answering the question asked by the students Mr. Mahendra asked the students not be worried regarding the opportunities in the market. Application of the knowledge and ability of research are the most important aspect in these days. According to the panelist Digital Marketing is not the class room learning but it is the experiential learning.

Guest Session on How to boost your Inner Confidence

Thursday, August 08, 2019

Mr. Atul Gopal visited Global Business and School Research Centre on 08th August, 2019 to conduct a session on 'How to boost your inner confidence'. He has done his B.E Mechanical from COEP and is the alumnus of IIM Calcutta.

He commenced the session by giving an introduction on how can one boost his/her inner confidence? Where he scrutinized on some of the following points such as:

1. Visualize yourself as you want to be.
2. Affirm yourself.
3. Do one thing that scares you every day.
4. Question your inner critic.
5. Take the 100 days of rejection challenge.
6. Set yourself up to win.
7. Help someone else.
8. Care for yourself.
9. Create personal boundaries.
10. Shift to an equality mentality.

Moving forward he elaborated the same point of discussion. Wherein he stated, forget about being perfect. So often people don't pursue things because they feel it has to be just right. They ruminate over how to approach things, conduct themselves, or say something to the point of getting filled with anxiety and either not taking any action at all or doing so in a way that lacks confidence.

For most people, confidence is crucial to achieving success. Without it most will flounder, despite their talents or strength. He added that highly talented musicians, athletes, and business people who, because they lack confidence, don't land the record deal, win their race, or start the business they've been dreaming of for years. They're held hostage by fear and this stems from a lack of confidence.
